

For Immediate Release

RENTON, WA. JANUARY 3, 2007 – Erado the leading on-demand message security archiving, compliance, and hosting services for financial services companies, announced the addition of an FRCP specific archiving solution tailored specifically for ALL customers that need to archive electronic messages for FRCP compliance.

Erado new FRCP solution provides a seamless end to end solution for business to be fully compliant with the newly enacted Federal Rules of Civil Procedure electronic evidence discovery rules.

The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure were updated effective December 1, 2006. The changes and amendments to the FRCP, introduce the phrase “electronically stored information” to Rules 26(a)(1), 33, and 34, to acknowledge that electronically stored information is discoverable. The expansive phrase is meant to include any type of information that can be stored electronically and is intended to be broad enough to cover all current types of computer-based information such as electronic messages which includes corporate desktop and web based email and instant messaging, PDA/Cell phone email and instant messaging, and SMS messages.

Erado's CEO Craig Brauff commented that "with the addition of our FRCP specific solution Erado can now offer our industry leading on-demand archiving solution to an extremely broad customer base. We are one of the first providers to offer an on-demand electronic message archiving solutions specifically tailored to the electronic evidence discovery and retention needs of the FRCP".
